NOT A SHOT FIRED

The Japanese Disaster Was Invented

BRITISH MAIL STEAMER STOPPED

Kuroki's Advance on Kuropatkin's Position

FIRING AT TA TCHU KIAO.

Tien Tsin, July 18th.—It has been learned from Chinese sources that heavy firing has been heard outside of Ta Tchou Kiao for the last two days.

NO NEWS FROM PORT ARTHUR.

Chefoo, July 18th.—No craft has arrived here from Port Arthur for several days past. The Japanese Consul at this port has not received any information of any nature for four days. The storm which has prevailed for the last two days is abating.

LANDING TROOPS.

Berlin, July 18th.—Lokal Anzeiger today prints a special despatch from Port Arthur stating that the Japanese since July 18th have landed about 20,000 men at Pigeon Bay under the protection of the entire fleet. The Russians, the despatch says, offered little resistance, but a great battle is expected soon. A calm sea favored the landing.

SAKHAROFF REPORTS.

St. Petersburg, July 18th.—Under date of July 16th Lieut. General Sakharoff reports that the Chassurs are driving back the Japanese advance posts southwest of Sakotan and east of Kan-Ach. The Japanese, the General says, have re-occupied Khina. They are still fortifying the passes between Ter Shul and Motien. The Japanese near Lao Yang have evacuated Sekeyan and Yaktikan. The country from Scossra up to Shu Pass is free from Japanese but the pass itself is occupied by a detachment of the Japanese Guards. General Sakharoff reports several minor encounters with practically no casualties.

SEIZED THE MAILS.

Aden, July 16.—The North German Lloyd steamer Prince Heinrich which has arrived from Hamburg, June 23rd, for Yokohama, reports that she was stopped yesterday afternoon by a Russian volunteer fleet steamer and compelled to give up 31 sacks of letters and 24 sacks and boxes of parcels all intended for Japan. It is reported that the Peninsula and Oriental Company's steamer Malacca, from Antwerp for Japan, has been seized in the Red Sea by the Russian volunteer fleet steamer.

ALL A STORY.

Tokio, July 16.—The Imperial headquarters staff officially deny the reports that the Japanese lost 30,000 men in a battle near Port Arthur on July 10th or 11th. Not a shot was fired on either side.

STILL ADVANCING.

St. Petersburg, July 16.—The Japanese are continuing to advance on Ta Tchou Kiao, following a scientific plan and entrenching their positions as they move forward. They appear to be taking extra precautions in the case of Ta Tchou Kiao on account of their knowledge that Gen. Kuropatkin is there personally.

SUICIDE WAS UTTERLY IMPOSSIBLE

An Inquest Held This Morning into the Death of William Nivins.—The Evidence Taken and the Finding of the Jury

An inquest was held this morning into the death of Wm. Nivins, proprietor of the Imperial Hotel, whose body was found in an outhouse on Saturday with a gun-shot wound in the breast.

Coroner Braithwaite conducted the inquiry, the jury consisting of W. R. West, foreman, A. L. Varden, F. E. Goode, Geo. Manuek, Chas. May and Homer Lyons.

Dr. Hishop was called and described the position of the body when he first saw it, shortly after it had been discovered.

Mr. Jones who went for the doctor was the next witness called.

A witness who conducts the feed stable beside the hotel said he had been in the stable during the forenoon. He had not heard any sound of a shot.

Dr. Pickering testified as to the position of the body when found.

Mr. Taylor, brother-in-law of the deceased was next called. He had found the body, Dr. Hishop when called thought death had occurred about two hours previous. When last seen that morning deceased had spoken to him cheerfully and showed no signs of melancholy.

Chief Dean called said the body was found lying on a trunk, with the head on the window sill, the gun lying on the box pointing towards the body.

A. E. May called said he had known the deceased since 1882. At that time he was running a hotel in Portage La Prairie. He had met him frequently since and was well acquainted with him. Deceased was a man of good character and highly respected. He was very fond of his family.

He had met deceased on Thursday when he showed him through the new hotel building. Deceased appeared well satisfied with his building and prospects.

Witness met him again on Friday last. He was then in usual spirits. He did not think deceased had any financial embarrassments.

The jury were only out a few minutes and returned a verdict that: "William Nivins came to his death by a gun shot wound fired by accident or other unknown means. We also find that suicide was utterly impossible."

War Notes

A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press, who arrived with the Russian guard after a running fight from Kiao Chou, half way to Ta Tshe Kiao, says: "We evacuated Kai Chou to-day (Saturday) after a fight lasting throughout Friday. We made a short stand at Pin Teau, seven miles north of Kai Chou. The Japanese kept on our heels and there were constant exchanges between the Russian and Japanese batteries. The Japanese stopped eight miles south of here. The fighting along the road was lively, but losses were small."

"There had been preliminary skirmishing and manœuvring for position around Kai Chou since July 5th. On that day two companies were caught in the hills to the eastward and surrounded by six Japanese battalions. They cut their way out, however, and returned to Kai Chou, bringing many wounded."

On the morning of July 6th our scouts reported that a strong Japanese force was taking up a position in the hills to the southeast. On July 7th Reikhardt with a small detachment of mounted volunteers made a bold and rapid sweep through and around the Japanese lines, and returned with exact information as to the disposition of the enemy. Reikhardt penetrated clear to San Uchen, and found two divisions moving in three columns in 3 parallel valleys towards our left flank. The main Japanese force was bivouacked at Vafangow.

Early in the morning of July 8th, the hills to the southward and eastward of Kai Chou were apparently deserted but we were aware that the Japanese were ready to spring. We had destroyed the railway bridge south of the town, and had a strong line of rifle pits along the bank of the river.

It was a brilliant morning. The Japanese began to advance from the defiles where they were concealed, and taking cover behind the thick trees and in the gardens south of the river, kept their batteries in the hill-tops carefully masked. While the Japanese crept forward, keeping up a fierce exchange with our riflemen, another column started to work around our left through a deep valley. The sound of a heavy rifle fire at the railway station told us that the column had struck our outposts. Then our battery behind the station opened fire and the advance in that direction was soon checked. We had a squadron of cavalry and a battalion of infantry across the river, and through the golden haze we could just see them manœuvring to meet the Japanese column, which they engaged fiercely. The Japanese were finally rolled back.

In the meantime the Japanese cavalry on the extreme west tried to creep around the shore of the gulf of Liao Tung, but our batteries headed off the cavalymen and drove them back in confusion. By noon the advance was checked at all points. Though growing numbers of Japanese were seen gathering in the hills, the batteries threw in an occasional shot.

Both sides had their respective positions through the warm still night, the Japanese reserve then hurrying up and concentrating for a morning attack, but we had held out as long as advisable in the face of the growing number of the enemy, and quietly prepared to evacuate.

The Japanese advance commenced at dawn, at first quietly and cautiously, and then with a rush. 35 infantry companies hurried themselves across the river. They must have been surprised to find themselves unopposed and greeted only by smoke of the warehouses which we had set on fire before retiring.

More Robberies at Regina

From the Standard:

There are robberies and attempts at robbery galore these days, and though the police decline to say anything on the subject, the Standard has been enabled to gather considerable information from the persons upon whom the outrages have been perpetrated.

The first and most serious yesterday was between the hours of 1 and 2:30 in the afternoon. While all the men of the construction camp of Contractor Newman were at work on the trenches for the waterworks, and the cook of the camp was away at the post office, the tents were entered and rifled by robbers. The only booty secured, however, was about $25 in cash and two watches. The foreman of the camp states that the robberies were not discovered until 10:30 at night when the men were retiring, and they have been reported to the police.

Later in the day or rather early this morning, while Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay, recent arrivals from Ontario, were sleeping with no thought of danger, the window of their bedroom was opened, and a hand pushed in, evidently with the intention of seeking for something under the pillow. Mrs. Lindsay was awakened, and screamed sufficiently loud enough to frighten the intruder away from the premises. On investigation this morning it was found that the intending robber had entered the yard over the fence on the left of the house and he was traced out through the back, the footsteps showing that he had been running and he was evidently badly frightened. The window had been left up about two inches and the man had been endeavoring to raise it higher when he was discovered, he tried to lower the window not wanting to awaken any more of the occupants of the house as it might not have been well for him had he done so.

The third of these nefarious actions, was the entering of a boarding house in the east end of the city. The would-be robber entered the front door which was left unlocked for the accommodation of the boarders, and walking down the hall he tried the other doors, but finding them locked, he left the house and went around to the window which he tried to raise. The noise awakened the occupants and the intending thief took French leave.

There were a couple of other attempts reported to have been made on Saturday night but all without success. As the matters have been reported to the police, and they are on the lookout for suspicious characters, it is likely that the guilty parties will be located before long.

A report was current in the city this morning that the robbers had been captured, but on enquiry at the police station, the Sergeant absolutely denies the rumor and says that there is no foundation for it at all.

Thankful For Rain

Revina Leader:

Everybody is wearing a smile to-day and nobody hears a word of complaint about the mud. Every man is happy to tramp about in it and today regards it as the glory of the country. This is the result of the rain which commenced to fall last evening and is still coming down. For some weeks past the country has been enjoying a steady continuation of exceedingly warm days and the need of rain was becoming a very pressing one. Some farmers were beginning to feel a bit down hearted and the more timid and conservative business men were contemplating the placing of smaller orders than usual for goods because it was feared that the lack of rain was going to result in greatly diminishing the prospects of a big crop. No damage has been done and with the good downpour of rain of last night and today prospects of a heavy yield could hardly be better, and taking into consideration the increased acreage under crop, the harvest promises to be an abundant one.

Incensed at Kamimura

Victoria, July 15.—Rev. J. W. Wadman, returning from a visit to Japan, arrived on the Empress of India Wednesday. He was at Hakodate, February 11, when the Russian Vladivostok squadron appeared. He says that the Russians attempted it they would then probably have captured the place as only one Japanese gunboat was in the harbor at the time and the land fortifications were not sufficient. The Japanese feared an attack would be made then and at four o'clock in the morning the people were all warned of the approaching danger and 2,000 people left for the hills in consequence. Mr. Wadman says the feeling in Japan ran high respecting the failure of Kamimura to keep the Vladivostok squadron bottled up. At Tokio the sons of Kamimura, who were attending college, were forced to absent themselves owing to fellow students making it uncomfortable for them in consequence of what was regarded as their father's lack of ability.

PARLIAMENT

Ottawa Correspondence:
Abusing Parliamentary Privilege

Yesterday was occupied in discussion of the estimates of the Department of Trade and Commerce and of the Prince Edward Island Railway. The discussion was on much the same lines as of the previous day—bickerings by a handful of opposition members over trivial details with no consideration whatever of the government policy involved, or suggestion of improvement in the interests of the country.

The Saskatchewan Valley Land Company

The Agricultural Committee met this morning to hear the evidence of Mr. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, in regard to the dealings of the government with the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company and to hear the report of the sub-committee appointed to review the evidence of James M. Macoun, given before the committee in regard to the Peace River country. The dealings of the government with the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company have been the subject of considerable adverse criticism on the part of members of the opposition and of the opposition press—or rather of insinuation than of criticism. Last year the question was up for consideration and Mr. Smart gave evidence before the Agricultural committee. Another year has passed, and when he was again before the committee, instead of the stormy scene that was expected, his statement of the case was accepted without dissent by the opposition members of the committee, and neither the merits of the proposal nor its methods were challenged in the slightest degree.

A Railway Land Grant

In order to understand this arrangement between the government and a large land company, it is necessary to go back to the beginning, which was the grant of a land bonus of something over a million acres to the Regina, Qu'Appelle, Long Lake & Saskatchewan Railway and Steamboat Company, as a part of the bonus for the construction of the railway between Regina and Prince Albert. The railway was finished in 1890 and of course the land was thereby earned. But the land company and the government were never able to come to an arrangement as to the selection of the land to which the company was entitled, until the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company came upon the scene.

Land was Refused by Railway Company

The facts are, that the southern part of the region traversed by the railway between the Qu'Appelle and the South Saskatchewan rivers, a distance of about one hundred miles, which is the part nearest to the settlement lying along the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was dry, open prairie, and was not at that time considered to be desirable for settlement. The government naturally wished the company to take its land as near the railroad line as possible; while the company refused to take this land, on the ground that it was not land fairly fit for settlement.

Matters remained in this condition until about 1902, the company being entitled to over a million acres of land, but still not having located it, or agreed with the government as to where the land should be. In the meantime other land grants had been made during the administration which prevailed up to 1896, and settlement had gone on in many desirable areas of the country, thereby more and more restricting from year to year the selection which might be made by the company. Matters reached such a pitch that at last the railway company entered suit against the government in order to secure their land grant.

The Company's Offer

With the rise in the value of land which began about 1900, speculative companies in the United States looked about in the Northwest for large areas of land to purchase. Hearing of this land grant of the Regina and Prince Albert Railway, and having looked over the country along the line of railway, the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company decided that they could afford to pay the company a moderate price for the lands along the line, if the company chose to accept them from the government. On the basis of the land company's offer, the railway company accepted the land grant from the government as originally offered. The land company then purchased from the railway company the whole, or practically the whole, of the railway land grant, amounting to over a million acres, at a price of $1.53 per acre, agreeing to take the land in the area within which the government desired the railway company to select its land. The railway company accepted the offer and closed out its holdings at that price.

The Company and Government Land

But the land company, in conjunction with its purchase from the railway company, desired also to acquire from the government the even numbered sections which alternated with the company's odd numbered sections throughout that part of its grant lying between the Qu'Appelle and Saskatchewan rivers, offering to take the land on settlement conditions besides paying a price for it.

Purchase and Settlement

Although settlement had progressed in other parts of the Northwest, this particular section of country was still vacant; the circumstances being such, the government considered it desirable to secure assistance from this company in the settlement of the tract, and made the arrangement with them which has been the subject of so much criticism. The arrangement is, as explained by Mr. Smart, that the company purchases from the government 250,000 acres at one dollar an acre. They take this 250,000 acres out of a certain number of townships selected by the government in the tract along the railway between the Qu'Appelle and Saskatchewan rivers. The first condition is that they must settle twenty homesteaders on free homesteads in each township before they are allowed to purchase the balance of the even numbered sections in that township, or such number of them as they desire, at the price of a dollar an acre; and they must also have settled twelve settlers upon the railway lands in the same township; that is to say, in order to secure the privilege of buying up eleven sections of land at a dollar an acre in any of the townships selected, they must place thirty-two settlers in that township, or a settler for each section in the township exclusive of Hudson Bay and school lands.

Conditions More than Fulfilled

The company have five years from a date in 1902 to fulfil their settlement duties, which involved the placing of some 1,100 homesteaders upon the tract. Already, according to Mr. Smart's statement, they have placed nearly 1,300 settlers, or more than the total required, and have three years to spare. While the policy of dealing with speculative companies in connection with settlement has been generally discredited in the Northwest, by the experience of the '80's, it would seem that the circumstances of this particular case were special, and that the results in the way of settlement have been entirely satisfactory. So much so that no adverse criticism

Still Fighting the West

The presentation of the report of the sub-committee on the evidence of Mr. J. M. Macoun was not received so quietly. Mr. Wade, chairman of the sub-committee, read the report. It was of considerable length and in moderate terms, but the purport is that in the opinion of the committee, Mr. Macoun's statements were not warranted by the facts within his knowledge, and that he had not adequate opportunity to arrive at a full knowledge of the facts; that his report be not further circulated; and that in view of the importance of the country, the government send a reliable commission to make a full and complete report.

The Peace River Report

The opposition members of the committee, who fought so bitterly against the cross-questioning of Mr. Macoun, were not in evidence so strongly as before, and pitched their remarks in a more moderate key. Without daring to take the position of condemning the Peace River country, and incidentally the Northwest at large, which they had taken in their efforts to back up Mr. Macoun, they contented themselves with their old and well-tried policy of obstruction. As the time of the committee was limited by the opening of the House they had no difficulty in talking out the report. The next meeting of the committee will not take place until Thursday next. Their hope evidently is that they may be able to jockey the committee out of receiving the report by reason of the approach of the end of the session, and thereby uphold Macoun in his condemnation of the country.

SCRIP AND SPECULATION

A writer in the Toronto News says: "The recent Order-in-Council granting 250,000 acres of land to the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company at a dollar an acre, recalls the feature of land speculation. Saskatchewan land has no equal for fertility on this continent. Yet it's land during the past ten years has been cornered in vast tracts by companies and private individuals at prices ranging as low as 25 cents an acre! This has been done by means of 'scrip'."

"Scrip" is the Government certificate that a half-breed or an Indian not taking treaty money on a reservation is entitled to 240 acres of land, which he may locate anywhere in the Crown areas.

"This forms a chapter in land speculation unique in the Northwest. In 1900 scrip was issued by Government commissioners at various points in the North West. Half-breeds came nearly 100 miles to Edmonton to get their scrip. They came on cayuses, buckboards and carts from all the trails, and camped in tepees on the edge of the town. There were men, women and children, at least 400 in all.

"The commissioners held their sitting in the fire hall. Mounted Police kept the door and maintained order among the benches filled with expectant semi-aboriginals. Some of the women sat on the floor, dressed in blankets and shawls. Those on the benches were in the latest styles of tailoring. Men in cowboy hats, moccasins and var-colored sashes sat waiting their turn and gabbling Cree. A catalogue of names at the door showed that the scrip-claimants for that day's issue were French, Scotch and English half-breeds.

"One by one the names were called by the chief commissioner, who knew something about every half-breed in the Territories.

"A half-breed interpreter repeated the call and the dusky claimant knelt the book. Then came a series of questions as to place of residence, history, number of children, where and when they were born—as for each child born before the Rebellion of '65, a claim to 240 acres might be proven. Some had four such children. They got scrip for 960 acres. Some had none such—but they were always discovered.

"Twenty minutes of rigorous examination settled the claim. If bona-fide the claimant got his or her scrip and shuffled off smiling to the crowd. In a moment a white speculator was beside her. He had been following the Commission for weeks. In many cases these speculators, being traders, had a power of attorney to a scrip for goods previously got on face value of it. A balance of $35 effected the transfer of the scrip to the speculator. In cases of non-negotiated scrip, from $60 to $100 effected the transfer of many a title to 240 acres of land. This was in the opening days, while the half-breeds were as yet thrifty.

"The price of 240-acre homesteads was soon spent for whiskey and foolish notions. The camps got rolling drunk and played that way. By the end of the season more than half of the issued scrip was in the pockets of the speculators at prices ranging from 25c to 75c an acre. And in many cases, when the original claimant pulled down his tepee and drove the cayuse back over the trail, all he had left to remind him of his title to a homestead was the memory of a glorious drunk.

"Scrip was a benevolent intention of the Government. But it has been the cause of the most wholesale, most sordid and yet most romantic speculation ever known in the Territories."

CELEBRATION AT WHITFORD

Contributed.

Whitford celebrated the first of July in grand style, baseball, horse racing, running and jumping. The sports were held in the field of our postmaster, Mr. W. E. Biggs. A large building was erected for the dancing, adjoining were long tables under arches of boughs where dinner was served. A large booth at the end did duty in holding soft drinks and fruits of the season. At eight o'clock p.m. the Spring Creek turned out well after a drive of twenty miles, Andrew was deserted, the store and hotel being like monuments standing alone in a desert. After dinner was over, which was kindly looked after by Mrs. Biggs and Stewart, people moved to the race track.

The following is the program of races.

- Free for all.
1st, D. Dejarlais' Little Prince.
2nd, E. Whitford's Ducky.
3rd, J. Borwick's Jess.

F. I. SASKATCHEWAN NEWS

From the Reporter:

Mrs. W. J. Hunter and children are spending their summer holidays with relatives in the Sunnyside district.

Mrs. Staughnessy, formerly of Edmonton, but now of Everett, Washington, is a guest of Mrs. Neville White this week.

We are pleased to note that Mr. Morley's brick machine is working satisfactorily, between 30,000 and 40,000 bricks being turned out in one day's work.

S. Perrin, of Edmonton, has charge of Mr. Sutherland's drug business while he is taking his holidays.

J. W. Shera, M.L.A., returned Monday night from a three days' trip as far as Star, Westlock, Andrew and other points. He reports the crop prospects to be good, the roads are in fair condition, the bridge at the Borwick sloughs almost completed, and the contractor is making good progress with the ditch between Star and Two Creeks.

Owing to the removal of Mr. H. W. Wilson from Fort Saskatchewan, he has resigned his position as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Fort Saskatchewan School District No. 51.

EDMONTON RIFLE ASSOCIATION

The regular practice of the association was held on Saturday afternoon, a good turnout of members being present.

Captain Dinnen, of the 5th Hussars of London, Ont., the winner of the 2nd place in the Grand Aggregate at the T. R. A. matches in Calgary recently, being in town, went over with Dr. Braithwaite, and had a practice shoot with the members. Using a strange rifle, however, he was unable to put up his usual score. The range being only partially protected, he found the wind, which was from the north-west, somewhat tricky.

The following were high scores for the day:

	200	500	600	Tl.
H. B. Spratt	28	28	29	85
Capt. Dinnen	29	29	26	84
S. S. Brown	28	26	29	83
H. W. Muller	32	28	19	79

The competitions for the medals offered by the association began with this practice, so that all desirous of participating should make a point of being out regularly on Saturday afternoons.

THE CHURCHES

At McDougall church last evening Rev. C. H. Huestis preached on the parable of the wheat and the tares, deducing the lessons that while good and evil men mixed in life and in the world, the world and its people belong to God and goodness was the primary quality, sin being a foreign element introduced by the enemy of man. It was impossible to destroy the power of sinning without destroying also the power of doing good. Hence God's plan was to let the two grow together until the time of harvest.

In the Presbyterian church, Rev. J. Clark, of Calgary, preached morning and evening. His theme at the morning service was the parable of the talents and in the evening the incident of the healing of the Centurion's servant, emphasizing the power of faith. Miss Webster sang a beautiful solo at the morning service, entitled "Jesus is Calling," and the choir rendered an excellent anthem in the evening.

OPEN AIR SOCIAL

Weather permitting the Epworth League of McDougall church will hold a social this evening at Riverside Park, instead of the regular service in the church. All the young people of the congregation are invited to be present. Should the weather prove inclement the regular service in the lecture room of the church will be held.

ANOTHER AUTO MOBILE IN TOWN

STEAMER INJURED

STRUCK THE ROCKS AT BURRARD

The New Fast C. P. R. Steamer on the Puget Sound run Comes to grief

Victoria, July 18.—The officials of the C. P. Navigation Company explain the extraordinary accident to the splendid new steamer Princess Victoria, which ran ashore at Prospect Point, Burrard Inlet yesterday noon by the fact that the vessel, travelling at twenty knots against the swift tide, suddenly took a sheer to starboard, and shot off at a tangent straight into the rocks, and that, owing to her high speed and the suddenness of the movement, it was absolutely impossible to reverse the engines or put down the helm hard enough to port to counteract the speed. The steamer struck heavily just above the place where the famous Beaver was wrecked. Officials say the damage is serious. One propeller is destroyed and the forefoot is smashed in from the terrific impact.

That the council unanimously consider that the appointment of a councillor for the new portion added to the district, namely, that portion of township 51, range 25, lying north of the Sturgeon river, is not required and would be the commissioner to reconsider the matter and if possible arrange that township 51, range 25, be division No. 4, and township 53, range 25, and that portion of township 52, range 25, lying north of the Saskatchewan, be division No. 5—but for the present year the councillor for division 4 represent this added portion.

That this council resents the action of the M.L.A. for Edmonton district in ignoring the council in the matter of spending a government grant obtained for the Fort Saskatchewan trail and requests that he will consult them in future.

That taking into consideration the fact that the authorities at Regina have undertaken work on the Fort Saskatchewan trail without recognizing the council in the matter; That henceforth the council repudiate any responsibility over this road and hold the said authorities responsible for any liabilities for damage caused by any defect in the same at any time and also for any damage to property caused for want of culverts across the said trail to carry off water from any of the section lines running into the said trail.

That no scraper or other tools belonging to the district shall be allowed to be used on any public work not carried on under the control of the council, except by special permission of the councillors and shall in no case be allowed to be used out of the division to which they belong nor by the tenderer of any district work in the division.

That the M.L.A. for Edmonton, Mr. Secord, be asked the reason that no grant has been obtained for the St. Albert trail.

That the M.L.A. for Edmonton district be requested to obtain a grant for the Stony Plain trail, it being in an almost impassable condition.

That the overseers of the various divisions send in their returns by August 6th to the councillors of their various divisions and that the next meeting of the council, unless specially called, be August 13th.

In a Retrospective Vein

Staff correspondence of the Toronto News:

Looking down upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier the other day answering Mr. Borden's charge that it was not the good administration of the government but the kindness of Providence which had caused Canada's prosperity, one could not help recalling a similar scene of fifteen years ago. That was at the opening of the session of 1889. There were youthful hero worshippers in those days, and the hero was Sir John Macdonald, to see and hear whom was ample repayment for a trip to Ottawa, and to be permitted to shake hands with him was to fill the cup to overflowing. Who then was this young Mr. Laurier—he was 48—who was beginning his second session as leader of what the hero-worshippers believed to be the forlorn hope called the Liberal party? In a speech of an hour in the debate on the Speech from the Throne Mr. Laurier made an earnest, impassioned and eloquent arraignment of the government and its policy, but he seemed to some who heard it as one who bore an "Excelsior" banner through fields as cold and icy as those which froze the heart of Longfellow's youthful enthusiast. Mr. Laurier had raised the Liberal banner on the old citadel of Quebec, but how hopeless seemed the chance of his ever seeing during his leadership, the flag with this "strange device" floating from the staff on Parliament Hill?

All this was fifteen years ago. Now Sir Wilfrid sits where the great Conservative chieftain sat, and the other day it was Mr. Borden on the eve of his fiftieth birthday who was leading on the minority, attacking the government vigorously and arguing that not Liberal administration but kind Providence had given Canada prosperity. Sir Wilfrid's answer was not that of Sir John, but it had points of marked similarity.

"Well, sir," he said, "I may tell my hon. friend opposite that no one on this side of the House will take exception to that argument. We recognize that we owe an immense debt of gratitude to Providence. Providence has blessed us with good crops, good prices, buoyant revenue and increased trade, and I may say without any boasting that our players go forth to heaven every day. I would like to invite the hon. gentlemen opposite to join with us in those prayers, did I not fear that their gratitude would be insincere. In human affairs we know that Providence acts through human agencies, and we are inclined to think that these gentlemen opposite cannot forgive Providence because it suited Providence to choose us poor Grits to be the instruments through which He lavished His bounty upon this fair Canada of ours, of which my hon. friends opposite are the fortunate, although disgruntled, citizens. . . . Mr. Speaker, hon. gentlemen on the other side of the House tell us, and repeat every day, that if the country is prosperous it is all the work of Providence, yet they are not willing to leave that work in the hands of Providence. They think—it is one of their pet notions—that they can perform the work much better than Providence can. This is the object of the amendment which they placed in your hands, and they expect that the Canadian people will take the work out of the hands of Providence, in which they have placed it, and put it into theirs. Well, I do not expect that because Providence is with us, the Canadian people will be against us, though that apparently is a reason why the hon. gentlemen on the other side of the House should be against us."

The Echoes of the Battle

The Wetaskiwin Times thus explains the way and whereabouts of an adverse criticism last week of the Red Deer baseball team:

"We were greatly surprised on Wednesday to receive a registered letter from a barrister in Red Deer informing us that he had been retained by the members of the Red Deer baseball club to look after their interests regarding the article published in The Times relating to their recent visit here stating that unless we retract the statements in the article in their entirety and apologize to the Red Deer ball club, he will begin proceedings against us. Should there be anything libelous in the paragraph referred to, we will gladly retract, but we as yet cannot see it, and as the barrister did not inform us the nature of the proceedings he would take, we will patiently await developments. The only point where objection might be raised is regarding the hotel expenses and to every fair minded man it does not seem reasonable that the Wetaskiwin boys should pay the expenses of the Red Deer club while on a holiday jaunt for the good of their health.

"The Red Deer Advocate in reporting the visit of the 'pits' says the Red Deer team took their places on the field, appointed to referee, and the pitcher threw the required three balls and declared the game to Red Deer by default. We might just say the Wetaskiwin boys were on the grounds at the time, and before the visitors took their places the management of the Turf and Exhibition Association interfered and ordered that the game be played in the evening, as had been advertised. Regarding the appointing of a referee, nobody knows who this visionary individual was, as he was not sanctioned by the secretary of the League, as required in such cases, and it was therefore not in his jurisdiction to declare either team the winners. The Red Deer team acted very childishly in the matter. Rather than play the game and suffer inevitable defeat they took a stock train home, where they would be pitted on the back and petted, and lauded for their creditable victory. It will be a hard blow when they find they have lost their valuable time; must pay their own expenses; and at the same time lost the game to Wetaskiwin by default by not appearing on the ground when ordered and at the time appointed by the league. The Wetaskiwin baseball team can beat Red Deer to a standstill, but the Red Deer team are not manly or sportsmanlike enough to admit it. They are cheap!

"In conclusion we should remind the learned advocate of the Red Deer team that should any funds be forthcoming from that team, the hotel keepers in Wetaskiwin have a prior claim over any legal fees he may entail, as the debt to them is of previous date. We sincerely trust there may be sufficient money to pay all."

Drowned in Moose River

Concerning the drowning of John Bower of Red Deer, in a northern stream, an account of which appeared in the Bulletin on Thursday last, the Red Deer Advocate says:

"A letter has been received from Mr. John Empey, and also signed by Edgar Bray, D.L.S., containing the account of the sad death by drowning on June 25th, of John Bower, eldest son of James Bower, living near Red Deer and well known here, and cousin of J. E. Bower, contractor. The accident occurred in Athabasca, on the west branch of the Moose river, which empties into Lesser Slave River.

"John Bower was a young man about nineteen years of age, and had been attending Alberta college in Edmonton, with a view to entering upon the course of civil engineering. Toward the close of the college term he joined a survey party and proceeded with them to Athabasca, where they were to operate; and in the Moose river the sad event occurred. It seems he had gone out to work on the line as usual in the morning, but shortly afterwards, having slightly cut his leg, he returned to camp. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon he started in swimming with a couple of the other boys, and before the others were fully undressed he got beyond his depth and although they did their best to save him he was drowned. The members of the party who were present used every means to recover the body, but a half hour had passed before they succeeded. Life had fled, and all efforts to restore respiration proved unavailing. Being many miles from navigation and having to depend on pack horses for transportation, it was found necessary to inter the body where they were, and sadly his companions performed the last rites. In the absence of a minister, one of the party read the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians, and after offering up a short prayer the body was laid away. The place was marked with a large cross, upon which his name was carved.

"The writer of the letter bears testimony to the exemplary conduct of the unfortunate young man, and commends his life since joining the party.

"A tender note of sympathy was written and signed by all the members of the party and forwarded to the grief-stricken parents. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing household in their hour of bereavement."

The Canadian Northwest
Homestead Regulations

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, excepting 8 and 16, which has not been homesteaded, or reserved to provide wood lots for settlers, or for other purposes, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age to the extent of one quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

ENTRY.—Entry may be made per the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or, if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him. A fee of $10.00 is charged for a homestead entry.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required by the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act and the amendments thereto, to perform the conditions connected therewith, under one of the following upon cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three plans:

(1) At least six months' residence years.
 (2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, reside upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If a settler has obtained a patent for his homestead, or a certificate for the issue of such patent, countersigned in the manner prescribed by this Act, and has obtained entry for a second homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by residence upon the first homestead, if the second homestead is in the vicinity of the first homestead.

(4) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon said land.

The term "vicinity" used above is meant to indicate the same township or an adjoining or cornering township.

A settler who avails himself of the provisions of Clauses 2, 3, or 4, must "personally" see to it that the land is cultivated, and have besides 30 acres substantiated.

Every homesteader who fails to comply with the requirements of the homestead law is liable to have his entry cancelled, and the land may be again thrown open for entry.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the local agent, sub-agent, or Homestead Inspector. Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Information.—Newly arrived immigrants will receive at the Immigration Office, in Winnipeg, or at any Dominion Lands Office, in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories, information as to the lands that are open for entry, and from the officers in charge, free of expense, advice and assistance in securing land to suit them. Full information respecting the land, timber, soil and mineral laws, as well as respecting Dominion Lands in the Railway Belt in British Columbia, may be obtained upon application to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, Manitoba, or to any of the Dominion Lands Agents in Manitoba or the Northwest Territories.

JAMES A. SMART,

Deputy Minister of the Interior.
 N.B.—In addition to Free Grant Lands to which the regulations above stated refer, thousands of acres of most desirable lands are available for lease or purchase from railroad and other corporations and private firms in Western Canada.

—Winnipeg Telegram: Thos. Turnbull, inspector of surveys, returned yesterday from an extended trip to the west, where he was engaged for most of his time in planting section posts, in the country settled by the Barr Colony. Speaking to a reporter for The Telegram, Mr. Turnbull said that "the Barr colony settlers seem to be well satisfied with the country and their lot generally and well they might, for unless something altogether unforeseen occurs, many of them will realize handsomely on the results of the season's crops. There is no dissatisfaction, and they appear to be industrious and full of hope."

—A new series of notes for the Imperial Bank of Canada have just been engraved in England, and will be put in circulation in due time. The $100, $50 and $20 denominations will be almost double the width of those now in use, though of the same length. The high amounts will be yellow and pink tints, the $50 of green and yellow, $10, greyish blue, and the $5 yellow. In keeping with the tale of the bank notes are decidedly imperialistic in their engravings, embracing portraits of His Majesty the King on the highest denomination—the $100 notes; her majesty the Queen on the $50 notes; of His highness the Prince of Wales on the $20 issue; of her highness the Princess of Wales on the $10 paper, and of Prince Edward of Wales on the $5 notes. On each of them clearly and strongly brought out, is some symbol or figure representing the empire of Canada.
